ON THE

ADMINISTRATION OF MYSORE

FOR THE YEAR

PART I

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The Convocation of the University of Mysore, the opening of the Sri Krishnarajendra Bridge across the Vedavathi, the opening of the All-India Jain Community Conference at Sravanabelagola, the inauguration of the Silver Jubilee celebrations at Kannada Sahitya Parishat were some of the public ceremonies which were honoured by His Highness' gracious presence. Accompanied by Prince Jaya Chamaraja Wadiyar, His Highness attended the Mahamasthakabhisheka to Sri Gomateswara at Sravanabelagola. In the course of his visit to Tumkur, His Highness visited three temples in the neighbourhood, and was pleased to sanction funds for special services in religious institutions of various denominations.

His Highness
the Maharaja
Sri Krishna
Raja Wadiyar
IV.

2. The Royal family and the State suffered a grievous loss by the demise of His Highness Sri Kantirava Narasimha Raja Wadiyar Bahadur, G.C.I.E., Yuvaraja of Mysore, who passed away in Bombay on 11th March 1940, after a brief illness. His Highness had just returned from a long tour in the West when he fell ill in Bombay. His breadth of vision, kindness of heart and charm of manner had endeared him to all that had the privilege of knowing him.

3. His Highness began to take an active part in the administration of the State in 1914 as Military Secretary to His Highness the Maharaja and then held for several years the office of Extraordinary Member of Council in which capacity he held charge of the Police, Medical, Military, Sanitation and Prisons Departments. His Highness was in charge of the Military Portfolio when the War broke out in 1914. He was responsible for the opening of a separate fund to provide Mysore Troops at the front with special comforts and to relieve want and distress in their families. In 1915 he was made Grand Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire and in 1918 His Imperial Majesty the King Emperor conferred upon him the rare personal distinction of the title of "His Highness."

4. In later years His Highness travelled largely and many of his well known speeches reveal how enriched he was by the progressive ideas and activities of foreign countries. His sad demise deprived the State of a widely beloved and gracious personality.

5. State business took the Dewan to Delhi for about ten days. He visited Mangalore in October 1939 to declare open two bridges and fulfil other public engagements in South Kanara District. In December 1939, he accepted the invitation to perform the opening ceremony of the Swadeshi Exhibition at Madras. In February 1940, he delivered the Convocation address at the Calcutta University. During the rest of the year, he undertook intensive inspection tours in the Hassan, Chitaldrug and Mysore districts, in addition to the camps at Mysore for presiding over the Sessions of the Representative Assembly.

6. The First Member of Council was on circuit for 92 days. He attended a meeting of the Standing Committee of the Chamber of Princes at New Delhi during March 1939, and inspected the Mysore Government Industrial Emporium at Bombay. The other tours included inspections of various Government industrial concerns, the Irwin Canal Farm at Ganadhal, and the lift irrigation block at Mattigere village. The Member presided over the District Conferences at Mandya and Mysore. A tour of Tumkur District was undertaken and town inspection of Mandya, Bhadravati, Closepet, Hole-Narsipur, Hassan, Kadur and Chikmagalur, were conducted.

First Member.

7. The Second Member of Council was on tour for 104 days. The meetings of the Governing Body of the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research at Simla and of the All-India Cattle Show Committee took him outside the State during July 1939. While on this tour the Member visited the All-India Broadcasting Station and the Experimental Agricultural Stations at Delhi. In December 1939, the Member attended the All-India Co-operative Conference at Delhi, visited the Benares Hindu University, and studied the drainage scheme and water-supply at Agra and Poona. Within the State, the Member inspected several agricultural farms, muzrai and medical institutions, municipalities and village panchayats. He presided over the Chitaldrug and Kadur District Conferences. During May 1940, a rather serious communal clash occurred at Harihar. The trouble arose over the right of taking religious processions with music before mosques and both the parties took an uncompromising attitude. The Second Member visited Harihar and effected a satisfactory settlement of the dispute.

LAW AND ORDER

LEGISLATION

8. The Representative Assembly met twice during the year and was consulted on the principles of fifteen Bills. With the exception of the District Board Act Amendment Bill and the Sugar Excise Act Amendment Bill, the general principles of all the Bills were accepted.

9. Twenty-three legislative measures were considered by the Legislative Council in its two Sessions. Twenty of them were finally passed and two were passed as amended by Select Committees. Statutory sanction to the orders passed by Government on the recommendation of the Constitutional Reforms Committee was conveyed in the Government of Mysore Act 1940. The Mysore Money Lenders Act provides for the compulsory registration of every money lender and the maintenance by him of accounts in a prescribed manner. The maximum rates of interest leviable are also limited. The Mysore Juveniles Act provides for the custody, trial and punishment of youthful offenders as also for the establishment and regulation of Borstal Schools in the State. An Act amending the Mysore Land Revenue Code enables the Government to introduce Survey and Settlement compulsorily into Inam villages. The period of continuous possession or payment of fixed rent, necessary to raise a presumption of permanent tenancy which was twenty years is reduced by this Act to twelve years. This Act secures to Kadim tenants in alienated villages, the benefit of remission in rent similar to that enjoyed in Government villages. The Mysore Public Security (Amendment) Act was an emergency legislation intended to supplement existing Criminal Law for the purpose of safeguarding public safety. The Mysore Duty on Gold Act provides for the imposition of duty on gold produced within the State. These are the chief additions to the Statute Book. Local legislation corresponding to the Indian Insurance Act and the Defence of India Act was also enacted.

REFORMS.

10. Constitutional Reforms of a far-reaching character were announced in a Proclamation of His Highness the Maharaja on the 6th November 1939. These provide for the grant of enlarged powers and privileges for the Representative Assembly and Legislative Council, the widening of the electorate and the appointment of the elected representatives of the people to His Highness' Executive Council.

11. The Representative Assembly and the Legislative Council which have been hitherto functioning under separate Acts will hereafter function under a consolidated law. The term of both the Houses will be increased from three to four years. The strength of the Representative Assembly will be raised from 275 to 310. The Assembly will, in future, be invariably consulted in regard to any legislative measure before it is introduced to the Legislative Council. It is further provided that the Assembly will have the right of considering the general principles underlying any Bill or any of its provisions and of proposing amendments thereto. The powers of the Assembly in respect of the budget have been enlarged by conferring on it the right of passing resolutions on any of the major heads on the budget, provided that such resolutions do not have reference to particular grants or appropriations. Certain heads of expenditure hitherto excluded from discussion continue to be so excluded, except in the case of "the Military Forces of His Highness the Maharaja" where discussion is permitted.

12. The strength of the Legislative Council will be raised from fifty to sixty-eight, forty-four places being filled by election. The Council will have a non-official President who will be elected by the House after its first term and elected Deputy President from the commencement.

13. Certain provisions calculated to widen the electorate for the Assembly and the Legislative Council have also been made. For example, the educational qualification for all voters for the Representative Assembly and the property qualification for voters for the Representative Assembly in rural areas will be substantially reduced.

14. An important reform designed to enable the Legislature more largely to influence the nature of the advice and assistance which the Executive Council tenders to His Highness, is the inclusion of not less than two non-officials selected from among the elected representatives, in His Highness' Executive Council. Such Ministers will be eligible to hold any portfolio of the Administration.

CRIMINAL AND CIVIL JUSTICE.

15. There was a decline in the number of grave crimes. In the new Constables' Training School at Mysore, some useful additions to the curriculum like instruction in swimming and in Kannada shorthand were made. A definite improvement in the discipline of the Police force was discernible, no case of judicial punishment coming up during the year.

16. The work of the Criminal Courts increased appreciably and the continued improvement in disposal of cases by stipendiary Magistrates was maintained, the average duration falling from 40 days in the previous year to 37 days. In order to facilitate the quicker disposal of the Sessions cases and Criminal appeals in the districts, the work of the Public Prosecutors at Bangalore, Mysore and Shimoga was limited to the respective districts and six fresh appointments for the other districts were made.

17. On the Civil side, there was a noticeable fall in institution, particularly in the case of small cause suits. The decrease is mainly due to the working of the Agriculturists' Relief Act and to a small degree to the working of the Debt Conciliation Boards. The number of old suits left pending at the close of the year was the lowest on record in modern times.

LOCAL BODIES.

18. Town and minor Municipalities received financial assistance to the extent of Rs. 2,05,000 from Government towards their schemes of improving water supply and provision of other civic amenities. An important water supply scheme sanctioned was that in Chitaldrug town at an estimated cost of Rs. 4,27,500, of which three lakhs of rupees will be met by Government. An intensive vaccination campaign was carried out in all the municipalities in the Kolar district, and anti-malaria measures in the Malnad areas were continued. Two more towns were electrified and radio sets for the entertainment of the public were installed in six towns. Municipal enterprise was further responsible for the opening of three new maternity homes.

19. There were nearly 12,000 village panchayats in the State engaged on the day-to-day problems connected with rural sanitation and medical relief, water supply and maintenance and rural reconstruction. The task of providing every village in the State with a secure system of water supply is no light one but an important step forward was taken by the sanctioning of a mammoth scheme of rural water supply, according to which an allotment of Rs. 3,25,000 was made during the year. It is gratifying to note that no less than 13,040 inhabited villages in the State have so far been provided with drinking water wells. The scheme for the improvement of grass lands in villages, formulated by Dr. W. Burns, Agricultural Expert to the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research, was tried in a few selected village panchayats and forests of the Bangalore and Kolar districts. In May 1940, Government sanctioned the starting of an Agricultural Colony for the settlement of the labourers in the Kolar Gold Field Mines.

20. There was a noticeable improvement in the work of the village panchayats. But much more could have been done, had the arrears been less heavy. The arrears at the end of the year amounted to as much as Rs. 47.48 lakhs, a position which does not reflect credit on the agencies responsible for the collection.

21. The nine District Boards continued to do useful work in the field of rural water supply, construction and maintenance of roads and buildings, education, prevention and control of epidemics and medical relief. On the expiry of the extended term of the year they were reconstituted in May 1940. As a measure of financial assistance, Government waived the annual contribution of Rs. 7,000 hitherto being paid by the Mysore District Board for the maintenance of the Vani Vilas Hospital. The Chitaldrug District Board completed and opened for traffic sixteen new roads, according to the five-year programme chalked out in 1937. The Dewan was pleased to open ten of these in his tour of the district.

22. In the field of rural reconstruction, the rural welfare centres at Closepet and Doddballapur continued to do valuable work. The latter centre was taken over to Government management.

FINANCE.

23. The actual revenue receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 417·98 lakhs against Rs. 395·58 lakhs budgetted for, and Rs. 398·28 lakhs realised in the previous year (1938-39). A sum of Rs. 3·85 lakhs was realised during the year, on account of the special duty on Gold levied from 22nd March 1940.

24. The expenditure charged to Revenue was Rs. 414·97 lakhs, against Rs. 395·12 lakhs provided in the budget, and against Rs. 397·49 lakhs incurred during the previous year. A sum of Rs. 5·85 lakhs was credited to the Irrigation Development Fund, Rs. 8 lakhs to the Special Reserve for non-recurring expenditure.

25. The Revenue account of the year thus closed with a surplus of 3·01 lakhs, against Rs. 46,000 originally anticipated and Rs. 78,658 realised during 1938-39.

26. The total receipts and payments on account of service and debt heads aggregated to Rs. 565·99 lakhs and Rs. 513·40 lakhs, respectively and the cash balance at the close of the year stood at Rs. 149·65 lakhs. The payments included a sum of one lakh of rupees graciously donated by His Highness the Maharaja to the Mysore War Relief Fund.

27. The total face value of securities of different kinds held at the close of the year, excluding shares of private companies, was Rs. 466.49 lakhs (533.81 lakhs on 30th June 1939), the large decrease being due to realisation and sale of securities and their reinvestment in short term investments.

28. The outlay on capital works not charged to Revenue to end of June 1940 amounted to Rs. 1,885 lakhs (Rs. 1,810 lakhs) while the liabilities on account of Public Debt and Unfunded Debt at the end of the same period stood at Rs. 1,446 lakhs (Rs. 1,421 lakhs.)

LAND REVENUE.

29. An event which marked the beginning of the year was the creation of the Mandya district. The old Mysore district was an exceptionally heavy charge comprising 15 taluks, one sub-taluk and the Yelandur Jahagir. With the development of irrigation under the Irwin Canal, the district became particularly unwieldy and Government ordered its bifurcation, with effect from 1st July 1939. Two Revenue Sub-Divisions comprising seven taluks were taken away from the old Mysore district and formed the Mandya district. Another administrative change was the appointment of an Assistant Commissioner as President of the Bhadravati Old Town Municipal Council and Vice-President of the New Town Board with revenue jurisdiction over Chennagiri taluk. The Bangalore taluk which was found to be an unwieldy charge for one Amildar was split up into two.

30. In the cultivated area, there was a net increase of 23,259 acres bearing an assessment of Rs. 30,154.

31. The rainfall during the year was plentiful being 11.62" more than in the previous year and 3.95" more than the average of 35 years. But it was not seasonal. Rains set in after some delay in Kolar Tumkur, Mysore, Mandya, Hassan and Shimoga districts, but the later showers relieved the situation somewhat.

32. To relieve the distress caused by the unseasonal rainfall, lands under 2,329 tanks and in several rainfed tracts in all the districts except Bangalore, were notified for grant of remission of half the wet assessment aggregating Rs. 1,67,031. The fodder difficulty in Mysore, Mandya and Hassan districts during the first three months of draught was met by throwing open the State Forests for free grazing and also by the grant of liberal fodder loans to needy raiyats. Relief works started last year were continued. A grant of Rs. 19,500 was further made to supplement the resources of Village Panchayats to undertake certain road works in Mysore district, while relief works costing Rs. 26,090 were undertaken in Mandya district.

33. Rules governing grant of remission of dry assessment were relaxed so as to provide for the suspension of one-fourth of the dry assessment on account of partial or total failure of crops. The suspended revenue will be collected along with assessment of the following year but may be remitted altogether if the failure of the crop continues. In addition, the several concessions in the payment of Government dues which have been granted year after year were continued. Notice and Istihar fees, to mention one of the items, were remitted to the extent of Rs. 43,031.

34. After the out-break of the war a tendency to inflate prices was noticed and was effectively checked by the efforts of a Committee to regulate and control prices appointed in September 1939.

35. A sum of Rs. 1,25,694 was disbursed to coffee planters under the takkavi loan scheme.

The continued depression in the coffee market prompted the appointment, in August 1939, of a Committee to suggest further means for stabilisation of the coffee industry. Various concessions have been offered as a result of the recommendations of the Committee.

36. A Committee of officials and non-officials with the Revenue Commissioner as Chairman considered measures for the advancement of depressed classes. In accordance with the suggestions of the Committee several concessions in the matter of free grant of land and building sites to them were ordered. In the educational sphere also, special encouragement is sought to be given to the depressed classes by way of scholarships to the students at the University and stipends to Adikarnataka students undergoing the course of practical training in the Engineering College. The Central Committee will hereafter meet once in six months and review the progress made. Taluk Committees are being set up to work in conformity with the general directions laid down by the Central Committee.

37. In addition to the six debt conciliation boards that continued to work, one was established at Chikmagalur with jurisdiction over Chikmagalur and Mudgere taluks. A special officer was deputed to study the working of the debt conciliation scheme and he has submitted certain suggestions calculated to make the boards more effective in the tackling of the problem of rural indebtedness.

AGRICULTURE.

38. Sugarcane cultivation has become a by-word for prosperity in the State. It is indeed the main commercial crop in the Irwin Canal area and elsewhere. One of the chief problems tackled by the Botanical Section of the Department of Agriculture was the evolution of better varieties of sugarcane. These experiments have met with success and several canes far superior to the existing varieties were under bulk multiplication. The Chemical Section of the Department investigated the optimum manurial requirements of sugarcane. The investigations showed that a combination of half organic and half inorganic nitrogen produced the best results. This fact is important in view of the large quantities of organic nitrogen available in rural parts.

39. The experiments carried out under the Dodhatti Scheme of Indian Central Cotton Committee indicated that M. A. 2 cotton was the best yielder in all seasons and could with advantage be sown in Irwin Canal area during March. This particular variety has also been found to be best suited for inter-cropping with ragi. These results are particularly significant in view of the large imports of cotton into the State and the predominance of ragi cultivation.

40. Another agricultural produce which the State imports in considerable quantities is rice. With the widely ramified system of irrigation obtaining in the State, it should be possible to increase the State's output of paddy and make it less dependent on external sources of supply. With this end in view, Government appointed a Paddy Specialist to examine the possibilities of improving the quantity and quality of the paddy production in the State.

41. Tobacco is another crop which is becoming more important in the agricultural economy of the State. As a result of several manurial experiments on this crop, a particular mixture has been worked out which is more effective than the mixture in vogue in foreign countries in addition to being much cheaper.

42. It is of the utmost importance to secure the quick transmission of the results of agricultural research to the raiyats' fields. To ensure this, Government maintained five experimental farms, organised subvention farms in the holdings of leading raiyats and arranged for a very large number of demonstrations in private holdings. Local seed farms helped in increasing the output of improved seed. Much headway has been made in the distribution of improved seed; and as compared with the position in 1936-37, the improvement is really striking. As against 16,388 seers of improved seed of ragi, 25,369 seers of paddy and 9,543 seers of groundnut distributed in 1936-37; the quantities distributed in 1939-40 were 37,795 264,148 and 35,319 seers, respectively. In the case of cotton the quantity increased from 13,090 lbs. to 187,213 lbs.

LIVE-STOCK.

43. The Live-stock and Amrit Mahal Department was amalgamated with the Mysore Civil Veterinary Department in order to secure better co-ordination of work and unity of control.

44. There were 81 Veterinary institutions in the State. In addition to the regular treatment and prescription in these institutions, propaganda and demonstration work was undertaken in many of the cattle fairs and shows. Several gentlemen gave generous donations for the construction of veterinary dispensaries. Sixteen buildings for such institutions were in progress.

45. In view of the growing importance of the work in respect of sheep breeding, the work of the sheep section was placed in charge of a local officer who had undergone training in the subject in Australia and New Zealand. Anthrax among sheep broke out in a virulent form in Nagamangala taluk. "Saponine vaccine", a new product of the Department was tried and proved very effective.

46. Poultry farming received increased attention and demonstration work was carried out in the twelve poultry farms. An Egg Marketing Society was organised at Closepet to deal with the eggs produced in that area.

CO-OPERATION.

47. The weeding out of some feeble societies resulted in a reduction of the number of primary agricultural societies; but there was an increase in membership. There was a fall in the share capital and an increase in working capital and reserve fund.

48. The urban co-operative societies fared better than the societies in rural areas. In fact, except land mortgage societies which again recorded an appreciable progress, the other rural credit institutions did not show any improvement. It was expected that the introduction of the Money Lenders Act would lead to increased encouragement to rural co-operative societies. But it was found that there was not much demand for loans from the Apex Bank from rural co-operative societies.

49. The twelve marketing societies functioned satisfactorily. The experience gained would be valuable in the development of co-operative enterprise in the field of agricultural marketing. An interesting type of co-operative society is the Mardihalli Co-operative Society which may be described as a multi-purpose society. Originally registered as a credit society, it took on the work of supply of seeds, manure and implements. Co-operative sale of cotton was taken up later. A cloth department was added after sometime. On the whole, with a membership of 169, a share capital of Rs. 9,115 and an aggregate working capital of Rs. 58,496 it has managed to pile up a reserve fund of Rs. 7,237. The Apex Bank advanced Rs. 25,000 to this society for financing cotton-growing.

50. The Mysore Provincial Co-operative Apex Bank is the sole agency for the grant of short term and intermediate credit to primary societies. As a result of the policy of decreasing individual membership, and increasing institutional membership, the former went down to 189 and the latter went up to 1,063. The loans advanced to societies came up to Rs. 2,12,664 as against Rs. 1,98,438 advanced last year. For financing house building societies Government sanctioned a loan of Rs. 1,50,000 to the Bank, which was utilised during the year. The Bank offered some concessions to indebted societies in the matter of reduction of interest and remission of penal interest on certain conditions. About 186 societies obtained the concessions by complying with the conditions. The net profits of the Apex Bank showed a marked improvement.

51. On 7th October 1939 the representatives of land mortgage societies met in a conference and discussed in detail certain important problems relating to land mortgage societies. The twenty-sixth Mysore Provincial Co-operative Conference met on the 19th and 20th October and considered the rules framed under the Act on the recommendation of the Committee on Co-operation. Both the Conferences were presided over by Rajamantrapravina Mr. K. V. Anantaraman, B.A., Member of Council.

FOREST.

52. The equipment of the Forest Research Laboratory was completed and preliminary trials were made of timber-testing and timber-peeling machines. Microscopic investigation of sixty species of commercial woods was done. Intensive work was carried on with a view to discovering the local timber which could replace foreign species of wood used for shuttles, picture frames and battery separators. Another useful undertaking was the manufacture of furniture from jungle wood. Government ordered the constitution of an Advisory Board to review and guide the work of the Laboratory.

53. Considerable progress was made in the work of afforestation. Five hundred and eight acres of teak plantations were raised, bringing the total area under such plantation to 13,155 acres which constitutes a valuable asset to the State. Extensive plantings of casuarina to the extent of 618 acres were also carried out. The raising of plantations of mixed species of soft woods has been started on a large scale.

54. The Wood Preservation Plant at Bhadravati and the Saw Mills at Shinoga, had a busy time. A large quantity of private timber for house building was treated in the Preservation Plant. The sharp rise in the price of steel poles used for electric transmission lines created wide demand for treated poles.

55. An order for a considerable quantity of bamboo tent poles was received from the Director of Contracts, Army Headquarters, New Delhi, and was complied with. The increased sales of timber and the larger supplies of railway sleepers and transmission poles, more than made up for the decline in the realisation from sales of tanning bark and in the revenue from sandal oil.

56. "The 'Tangya' " system of grant of lands for temporary cultivation, which is in vogue in the United Provinces and Bombay Presidency was introduced into Bangalore district. Under this system, landless peoples are given small plots free of assessment for temporary cultivation, in return for which they have to excavate trench mounds, raise plants of the forest species, fence and protect them for a stipulated period. They are allowed to cultivate the land between the trenches till the growth of plants makes further inter-cultivation impossible. The scheme is advantageous both to the landless raiyat and to the department. As an experimental measure, grants to the extent to 255 acres were made in Bangalore district.

57. A Conference of the officers of the Department was held during the year to take stock of the work done, to consider present day problems and to suggest measures for tackling the same to produce best results. A Forest Rangers' School to train men for executive service under local conditions was started at Bangalore.

INDUSTRY AND TRADE.

58. The war in Europe had far-reaching effects on the industrial fabric of the State. Speculative activity in the earlier months forced up prices. Later, this upward tendency slackened and the year closed with a level of prices only a little above that of the beginning of the year. The Silk industry in the State benefited by a sharp fall in the imports of raw silk. The demand for filature silk manufactured by the Mysore Silk Filatures, Limited, improved considerably and large orders were received from England and Australia. The Mysore Spun Silk Mills, which commenced regular operations from 1st July 1939, benefited similarly by the complete cessation of the imports of Swiss spun silk. The area under mulberry expanded considerably. An experimental silk worm rearing farm on Biligirirangan hills was sanctioned, as also a Government grainage at Ummathur and ten aided grainages in other places.

59. The great importance of safeguarding the handloom weaving industry in the State was recognised and the Department of Industries sent out demonstration parties to go from village to village and demonstrate improved methods of weaving and the advantages of using improved appliances. Several persons were trained to use the improved appliances and loans were granted to some for purchasing of them. A helpful measure undertaken by the Department was the opening of yarn depots in nine weaving centres in the State to supply yarn and other raw materials to weavers at ruling market rates. A further measure of assistance was the exemption of all handloom products manufactured in the State from octroi duty. Handloom goods worth Rs. 1,21,179 availed of the exemption.

60. In accordance with the three-year plan adopted last year, Government gave systematic encouragement to other rural occupations like hand-spinning, lacquerware work, tanning and flaying, button-making, mat-weaving, smithy, pottery and ceramics. Attempts were made in every case to get the village artisan to use more efficient tools and produce a wider range of articles.

61. In addition to the ten industrial schools and one trade school run by Government there were sixteen home industries classes and three private industrial schools receiving grants from Government.

A very large variety of useful handicrafts was taught and arrangements made for granting loans to trained men who wanted to set up business on their own account. The home industries classes imparted training in useful sparetime occupation to women. Six scholarships were awarded for the study of industrial subjects outside the State.

62. The Department of Industries received an order from the War Board, Government of India, for 250 tons of burnt cocoanut shell charcoal, and executed it to the War Board's satisfaction. The opportunity was availed of to put the industry on a scientific basis. A special officer deputed by the Department visited important cocoanut producing areas and held practical demonstrations of the proper way of making cocoanut shell charcoal. The War Board made enquiries regarding hand-made blankets and gloves and they are being followed up.

63. The total rail-borne trade in merchandise showed an increase of 5·6 per cent in volume and 4·7 per cent in value. Arrivals of kerosine and petrol showed a conspicuous increase as also imports of machinery. There was a noticeable improvement in the exports of raw cotton and cotton piecegoods. Mysore silk which had suffered a set back last year was in good demand outside the State; and the value of silk exported was more than Rs. 24,50,000.

PUBLIC WORKS.

64. Against a final grant of Rs. 119·58 lakhs, the total outlay amounted to Rs. 123·49 lakhs, the excess being shared chiefly by communications, tank restoration and irrigation works not charged to revenue. Of the total irrigation expenditure of Rs. 21·70 lakhs, tank works claimed the major share, viz., Rs. 20 lakhs. Of the important irrigation works in progress may be mentioned, the Marconahalli reservoir estimated at Rs. 22 lakhs; the Byramangala tank estimated at Rs. 9·39 lakhs; the Maralvadi tank estimated at Rs. 4·75 lakhs; the Harige tank estimated at Rs. 4·45 lakhs. The total estimated value of the chief tank works in progress amounted to no less than Rs. 56·82 lakhs.

65. A sum of Rs. 16·22 lakhs was spent on buildings, of which Rs. 13·64 lakhs was spent on original works and the rest on repairs. The General Hospital at Mandya, the New Mental Hospital at Bangalore, the Pathology block in the Sri Krishna-rajendra Hospital at Mysore, the New High School at Malleswaram were some of the major buildings completed. The construction of buildings for the Public Health Institute, the Research Laboratory in the Serum Institute, the University Settlement was in progress. Several philanthropic gentlemen came forward with generous donations for the construction of hospitals, dispensaries, etc. More than Rs. 1·31 lakhs was thus received. Rs. 32·18 lakhs were spent on roads and bridges. Some of the important roads were asphalted, the expenditure being met out of loan funds. In order to relieve the strain on the local Bodies, Government ordered that State Fund and District Fund roads passing through towns and villages should in future be maintained by the Public Works Department without the levy of any contribution from the Local Bodies. The Jakkore aerodrome was ready in February 1940 and the formation of the aerodrome at Mandakahalli near Mysore was nearing completion.

66. The water works at Thippagondanahalli pumped 2,070 million gallons of filtered water to the Jewell Filters at Bangalore, representing an average daily supply of 5.67 million gallons. The average daily consumption in the City was 3.45 million gallons and that in Cantonment 2.07 million gallons. The total number of house connections rose from 10,327 to 10,889.

67. The growing demand for electrical energy impelled the Government to take up the Jog-falls Project which is designed to generate 48,000 H. P. of electricity at an estimated cost of Rs. 280 lakhs. The execution of the civil and hydraulic works was transferred to the Public Works Department. In view of the importance and magnitude of the scheme an expert Committee with the Chief Engineer as Chairman, was constituted to consider the important details connected with the work. Government engaged Sir Henry Howard of Madras to advise on the Project.

68. There were two conferences of the Chief Engineers of Mysore and Madras, one in January 1940 at Krishnarajsagar and another at Madras in March 1940, to discuss matters connected with the proposed reservoir across the Kabbini and some other outstanding points arising out of the Mysore-Madras Cauvery Agreement of 1924. A formal agreement was reached in regard to proportion factors for impounding in the proposed Kabbini reservoir.

69. To the various charming features of Brindavan one important addition was made by the construction of Hotel Krishnarajsagar. The Hotel commands a bewitching view of the fountains in the garden below and when flood-lit is itself a beautiful spectacle. It is furnished with tasteful Mysore made furniture and is equipped with all modern conveniences. More than two lakhs and thirty thousand people visited Brindavan. Facilities were provided for pleasure-boating in row boats and in the motor launch 'Sri Cauvery.'

RAILWAYS.

70. Including the Rs. 12·04 lakhs contributed by the Mysore District Board for the construction of the meter gauge line from Nanjangud to Chamaraj-nagar and the Rs. 21·19 lakhs by the Bangalore-Chikballapur Light Railway Company, the total capital invested in the State lines amounted to Rs. 673·69 lakhs. The gross earnings amounted to Rs. 87·13 lakhs and the net revenue to Government to Rs. 30·04 lakhs.

71. Two changes were made in train services for the convenience of the travelling public. Due to the steep rise in the price of stores caused by the War, the authorities were constrained to levy a supplementary charge of one anna per rupee on passenger traffic and two annas per rupee on goods and coaching traffic.

72. The Government of India sanctioned a traffic survey of the proposed Chamarajnagar-Mettupalyam line by the agency of the South Indian Railway. One of the Traffic Officers of the State was associated with the South Indian Railway Officer.

73. Several measures calculated to provide amenities to the staff were got through. All the staff quarters were kept in good repair, material improvements being effected in the quarters of Bangalore, Harihar, Shimoga, Chikjajur and Birur. The pond near the Binny Mills was a menace to the Railway staff quarters nearby on account of its offensive odour. Steps were taken to fill it up and drain the whole area. Near the Central Railway Workshop, a building was put up to house a Maternity and Child Welfare Centre. The Railway undertook to provide the equipment for the Centre and also to contribute to its working. The needs of the young children too were not forgotten, and two neatly formed children's playgrounds were laid out in the Railway colony at Mysore. A public radio was installed in the colony. There was an addition of Rs. 6,273 to the Staff Benefit Fund which had Rs. 15,691 at its credit at the end of the year. Educational grants and grants for the recreation of the staff were made out of the fund.

74. In July 1939 the employees of the Central Railway Workshop, Loco Department, formed an association among themselves. The authorities permitted this on condition that the association confined itself to the avowed object of promoting the welfare of the workers in the Loco Department. As a result of several discussions between the authorities and the office bearers of the association, certain concessions in the matter of holidays with pay and relaxation of rules governing fines and punishments were granted. But mischievous elements were active and the workers were being induced to acts of insubordination. The situation worsened and between 29th January and 22nd February 1940 it became necessary to declare a lockout and to arrange for an elaborate police watch over the workshops. The workshops were reopened in response to an appeal from the workers; but the trouble continued in some form or other. In May 1940, the Dewan was pleased to pay a visit to the workshop and after hearing the grievances of the workers ordered a detailed enquiry by the Public Service Commissioner. He further advised the workers to work loyally and assured them that Government would redress their legitimate grievances. After this, the situation improved quickly and there has not been any recrudescence of the trouble.

ELECTRICITY.

75. From a length of 96 miles in 1902 when Power transmission was first done, the High Tension transmission lines in the State have extended to 868 miles supplying 63,000 H. P. for lighting and industrial installations. The number of consumers has been steadily growing, the number at the end of the year being as much as 46,487 as compared with 31,190 five years ago. The Government's aim is to provide electric power as cheaply as possible, so that the industrial economy of the State may rise to its full stature by the exploitation of a natural advantage which the State possesses in abundance. With the completion of the Shimsha New Project the total normal capacity of the State's Electrical System rose up to 69,000 H. P. with an emergency capacity of 80,000 H. P. Another huge hydro-electric scheme, the Jog Falls Project, has been taken up and more than Rs. 14.94 lakhs has so far been spent on it. The Electric Department brought in a net revenue of Rs. 69.82 lakhs or a net return of 8.69 per cent on the capital invested including the expenditure on the Jog Falls Project. Steady attempts were made to spread the benefits of electricity to towns and villages even in the remote corners of the State, and a capital expenditure of Rs. 6.06 lakhs was incurred on this account. Eleven more town and villages were electrified, bringing the total number to 196. A cardinal instance of how electricity is brought in to aid the villager is its extension to work irrigation pumps, which have saved many a garden from wholesale failure on account of drought. Special power lines were laid to convey power to these pumps at a cost of Rs. 55,416. This capital expenditure was undertaken regardless of the low return as the all-important object was to protect the interests of the agriculturist.

MINES.

76. Besides gold, mining of which is confined to the Kolar Gold Field, the minerals worked included chromite, manganese, magnesite and kaolin, etc. The extensive washing of the alluvium near Kudurekonda, Honnali Taluk, disclosed that alluvial gold was distributed in the area to an average extent of one grain to a cubic yard of soil. There are, however, some disadvantages like scarcity of water for washing, which make the setting up of a large scale industry there, impracticable at present. Near Ganjiganahalli in the same area, a rolled boulder of gold quartz containing about $4\frac{1}{2}$ seers of gold was found. The Department have mapped out the auriferous quartz reefs in the area and Government have sanctioned large scale underground prospecting. The chemical laboratory investigated the possibility of the manufacture of alum and aluminium sulphate from some of the Mysore clays and bauxites. Preparation of cement asbestos sheets was attempted on an experimental scale in the metallurgical laboratory.

77. The mining leases of the four gold mining companies in the State, renewed for a period of thirty years, came into force from 22nd March 1940. The year's operations resulted in the production of a slightly smaller quantity of gold but the total value was much more than that for last year.

78. The Mysore Duty on Gold Act levied a duty on the gold produced in the State, calculated at three-fourths of the excess of the price of gold per fine ounce over Rs. 100. The amount due from the companies amounted to Rs. 8,66,768, of which Rs. 3,85,467 have been collected.

79. On the 22nd July 1939, about 1,700 underground workmen of the Oorgaum Mine went on strike. Within a couple of days the Mines Management inquired into the workmen's grievances and conceded such of their demands as were considered legitimate. The strike was called off on the 24th July.

80. In common with other industrial areas in the State, close attention was paid to labour welfare in the Kolar Gold Field mining area. Central and Branch Welfare Committees educated the labourers in sanitary matters and sanitary overseers inspected the lines daily. In addition to schools for children there were a large number of night schools for adults. The Mine drama halls and the travelling cinema were quite popular. Maternity homes located in the lines ensured expert medical aid to the expectant mothers. The Mysore State Temperance Federation had a branch on the Kolar Gold Field and did valuable work.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND MEDICAL SERVICE.

81. Public Health during the year remained satisfactory, epidemic diseases claiming hardly 3·6 per cent of the total mortality. Including the expenditure of the Medical department on the curative side, Government spent Rs. 57·4 lakhs on Public Health. The reduction of deaths by malaria has been one of the constant cares of the Department. The permanent anti-malaria engineering works at Harihar, the anti-malaria works at Belur, the malaria control work around the Princess Krishnammanni Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Mysore, and the starting of itinerant dispensaries in Krishnarajnagar and Pavagada were among the several anti-malaria measures sanctioned by Government during the year. The Department of Health conducted a detailed malaria survey of villages on the right bank of the Bhadra Channel. By a resolution of the Central Advisory Board of Health, Madras, the system of registration and compilation of vital statistics introduced in Mysore State in 1938 was adopted as a model for other provinces and States. To secure the co-operation of civil, military and railway authorities, and avoid duplication of effort, a combined Local Health Committee with representatives of all the interests concerned was set up and urgent problems like the mosquito nuisance, discussed. Five sanitary overseers were employed whole-time to make house-to-house inspections in congested areas in Bangalore City. They conducted 10,668 inspections and took immediate corrective steps wherever necessary. In accordance with the scheme for the wholesale introduction of flush-out latrines, about two thousand flush-outs were added in Bangalore and Mysore cities. In order to disseminate widely the knowledge of the fundamental rules of Public Health, the Department arranged for the distribution of leaflets on plague, diphtheria, typhoid and "Don'ts of Public Health." Lectures and cinema shows on health problems were arranged by Village Panchayets whose efforts are vital to the preservation of Public Health. About Rs. 4.46 lakhs were spent by Village Panchayets on Public Health works and measures.

82. Voluntary organisations like the Indian Red Cross Society (Mysore State Branch), continued to do useful work. Under the auspices of this Society, Rajamantrapravina Mr. K. V. Anantaraman, B.A., Member of Council, opened the Lady Willingdon Anti-Tuberculosis Dispensary and Clinic, and the Seth Chellaram Kishendas Maternity Home at Bangalore. An important development in the administration of anti-tuberculosis work was the formation of the State Tuberculosis Association which took over from the Red Cross Society all the work relating to Tuberculosis.

83. The Health Training Centre, Closepet, has been doing steady and useful work in all phases of Public Health since 1936. The Public Health nurses employed by the Centre during their 20,703 home visits registered pre-natals, infants, and pre-school children. The laboratory attached to the Centre proved useful for the quick detection of malaria and tuberculosis and obviated the forwarding of all samples to the Public Health Institute for analysis. In the Rural Health Unit at Mandya, Totaquina tablets were distributed free to sufferers from active malaria.

84. Twenty new medical institutions were opened during 1939, bringing the total to 330. Deep X-ray Therapy apparatus at a cost of Rs. 22,000 was added to the Victoria Hospital. Government sanctioned a special grant of one lakh of rupees for the provision of additional surgical instruments and appliances. Government took advantage of Lord Nuffield's generous offer and obtained two "Iron Lungs", one each for the general hospitals at Mysore and Bangalore.

85. Donations from private sources for medical relief in the State amounted to Rs. 1,46,000. Notable among them are the donations for the two maternity homes, one at Malleswaram and one in the City. A private donation of Rs. 5,000 enabled the addition of two wards with sanitary conveniences to the Minto Ophthalmic Hospital. Besides these, private philanthropy was responsible for the establishment of maternity homes in six big villages.

86. There were thirty-two Child Welfare Centres in the State taking care of the infant and educating the mothers.

87. The Mental Hospital, Bangalore, received 458 fresh admissions. Voluntary admissions increased, and magisterial orders were resorted to only when unavoidable. In the out-patient department the hospital treated several "problem children" suffering from behaviour disorders, pathological lying and stealing, nervousness and general backwardness. Occupational therapy gave encouraging results in the case of various types of mental disorders. Spinning, weaving, carpentry, basket-making were some of the occupations provided in the Hospital. About a third of the clothing needed for the patients came from the Hospital looms. The patients were given facilities to play indoor games, to attend an occasional cinema show, to listen to the radio which was recently installed with loudspeakers in every ward and to read interesting magazines and books.

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

88. The activities of Government in respect of Public Instruction continued to make a steady advance. There was a marked increase in the number and strength of recognised institutions and the total expenditure on Public Instruction including that on University Education amounted to Rs. 71.61,085.

About 38·35 per cent of the population of school-going age or ten out of every 26 persons of school-going age received instruction in the educational institutions of the State.

89. The Girls' High School started by the St. Joseph's Convent at Chickmagalur, and the Boys' High School started by the Seshadripuram Educational Association received Government recognition. A new Municipal High School building was constructed at Krishnarajnagar, a growing taluk headquarter town in Mysore District, with the donation from local philanthropists. The Dewan, Amin-ul-Mulk Sir Mirza M. Ismail, was pleased to perform the opening ceremony. Mandya was made a centre for the S. S. L. C. Examination. The first examination under the revised S. S. L. C. scheme was held in March 1940. Two examinations under the old rules were also held for the benefit of candidates who had previously passed but had failed to secure eligibility for College courses of study.

90. Government revived the grants to aided High Schools and Hostels for the Depressed Classes and fixed them for three years. The extra-curricular activities of the High Schools were well organised. Worthy of mention is the starting by the Chikballapur High School of a Rural Welfare Society with literacy drive as one of its aims. Several girl students of the Malleswaram High School underwent training in First Aid and Home Nursing. Considerable additions were effected to the National High School building at Bangalore, designed to meet the present needs of the institution and also to provide for future expansion. Government gave a grant of Rs. 11,200 for the extension. The Government High School at Malleswaram moved over to its imposing new building.

91. To meet the increased demand for Middle School Education, seven Government Middle Schools were added and an aided Mission School was taken over by Government. Under the expansion scheme, Government granted Rs. 10,000 for the opening of new Primary Schools.

92. The District School Board, Tumkur, conducted short refresher courses for a batch of teachers of Primary Schools in Tumkur District during the summer vacation of 1940. A scheme of First Aid and Nursing was introduced in select High Schools and Middle Schools under the auspices of the Red Cross Association.

UNIVERSITY.

93. The academical year commenced on the first June instead of 24th June so as to enable the holding of the University Examinations in a cooler part of the year than usual. The admission to the Degree and Intermediate classes showed a marked increase. This, in addition to the transfer of the School of Engineering to the control of the University, put up the total student strength by more than 800. With the transfer of the control of the School of Engineering, sanction was accorded to adapt the Civil Engineering and Higher Grade Mechanical and Electrical Engineering courses in the School to the requirements of the Post-Secondary Diploma courses in the University. The Lower Grade Engineering course will hereafter be termed Certificate Course.

94. The Intermediate Colleges at Shimoga and Tumkur were revived with both Arts and Science Courses. The Maharani's College for Women was shifted to Bangalore, instruction in Science for students in the Degree classes being given at the Central College. Government approved of the proposal to levy tuition fees on Mysore women students admitted to the Arts and Science Colleges from 1940-41, at half the rate for men students. The exemption granted to women students of the Medical College and Medical School continues.

95. An amendment to the University Act enabled the University to affiliate other institutions. In accordance with the scheme of Fellowship, a Fellowship was awarded in the Department of Philosophy. Four members of the staff of the University qualified for the Doctorate of the Madras University by virtue of their research work.

96. The Extension Lectures Scheme has gained in popularity and produced good results. In addition to lectures by eminent persons, camps in the mofussil were arranged. These provided an opportunity to the members of the University to convey their knowledge and outlook to the people at large, and to acquire a factual background to their regular work in the University.

97. To enforce greater attention to physical fitness, compulsory physical education has been introduced to the students of the Intermediate Classes in men's and women's colleges. Government sanctioned a grant of Rs. 9,000 for the provision of military training to students of the University. One hundred and sixty-three students and members of the staff received training.

98. In pursuance of the fundamental aim of Government to promote the welfare of the people at large, a University Settlement was organised to impart specialised training in social welfare to members of the University. The enthusiasm and specialised knowledge which the young would-be social workers possess will doubtless be turned to good advantage by the training contemplated to be given at the Settlement. A member of the Oxford Fellowship at Cawnpore was in charge of the Settlement. For service in the urban area, five centres in the mill area in Bangalore were chosen; night schools, games and entertainments were organised. The students resident in the Settlement received stipends. The Settlement will shortly have a new building to house it.

99. With the fast development of University education, the cognate problem of educated employment has been looming large. A measure calculated to systematise the search of employment by University graduates was the constitution of a University Employment Bureau.

GARDENS.

100. Eight new public gardens came under the control of the Gardens Department, bringing the total number to 97. The reputed gardens of the Lal-bagh and Cubbon Park at Bangalore, the Brindavan at Krishnaraj Sagar, the Government House, and the Lake View at Mysore, the Nandidrug Hill Station, the Daria-Dowlat Bagh and Gumbuz at Seringapatam were looked after with fastidious care and in most cases, novel additions were made to enhance their beauty.

101. Several varieties of apples and citrus fruits thrive well at the Government orchard at Krishnaraj Sagar. The encouragement given to fig cultivation at Ganjam proved effective and the number of fig plantations went up. The efforts of the Fig Marketing Society have met with success.

102. Experimental work on fruit cultivation was carried on at the Central Fruit Nursery, Bangalore, the Krishnaraj Sagar orchard and in the Fruit Research Station at Hessarghatta. A large number of fruit plants, chiefly apples, citrus fruits and grape vines, were imported from Australia and supplied to fruit growers. The horticultural inspectors at Bangalore and Chikmagalur helped private fruit growers and Local Bodies with advice regarding the laying out of gardens and treatment of plant diseases.

103. The Fruit Research Station, Hessarghatta, arranged for the demonstration of the best methods of preservation of fruit and preparation of fruit syrups. These demonstrations were held in the two Horticultural Shows arranged by the Mysore Horticultural Society and the Dasara Exhibition.

The noticeable large variations under receipts are explained below :—

A. Land Revenue.—Increase of Rs. 8·68 lakhs.

The increase appears mainly under Assessment on Lands (Rs. 7·17 lakhs) and Miscellaneous (Rs. 1·56 lakhs) and is largely the result of the favourable seasonal conditions, obtaining in most parts of the State during the current year.

REVENUE AND

A. 1. Mining Royalty and Leases.—Increase of Rs. 2·89 lakhs.

The increase appears under Royalty on Gold (mainly under Basic Royalty) on account of increase in the price of Gold.

A. 2. Duty on Gold.—Increase of Rs. 3·85 lakhs.

The Government of Mysore levied a special duty on gold with effect from 22nd March 1940, equivalent to three-fourths of the amount by which the sale price per ounce exceeds Rs. 100. The revenue realised on account of this duty is shown under this head.

B. Forest Revenue.—Increase of Rs. 1·28 lakhs.

The bulk of the increase (Rs. 1·16 lakhs) is under timber and other produce removed by Government and private agency.

C. Excise Revenue.—Increase of Rs. 1·05 lakhs.

This is the net result of an increase of Rs. 1·84 lakhs under Toddy and decreases of Rs. ·43 lakh under Arrack and Rs. 0·33 lakh under Ganja and Majum.

D. Stamp Revenue.—Decrease of Rs. ·52 lakh.

The decrease appears mainly under Court Fee Stamps.

D. 1. Income-tax.—Increase of Rs. 1·39 lakhs.

This is the net result of an increase of Rs. ·63 lakh under Income-tax and decreases amounting to Rs. 1·02 lakhs under Super-tax and Rs. 1·78 lakhs under Refunds. No refund was payable to the Mining Companies in the year 1939-40 consequent on the increase in the standard rate of the United Kingdom Income-tax, whereas, the refund made during the previous year was Rs. 1·68 lakhs.

F. Miscellaneous Taxes and Other Receipts.—Miscellaneous Taxes.—Decrease of Rs. 1·26 lakhs.

The decrease under the head is the net result of a fall of Rs. ·39 lakh under Excise Duty on Matches and Rs. 1·74 lakhs under Excise Duty on Sugar, set off by the realisation of a sum of Rs. ·79 lakh on account of Excise Duty on Power Alcohol which is a new item of revenue.

Other Receipts.—Decrease of Rs. 1·47 lakhs.

The decrease is the net result of decreases and increases under a number of heads. The variations are all small except under 'Miscellaneous,' 'Medical' and 'Education.' A decrease of Rs. 2·03 lakhs appears under Miscellaneous and is chiefly due to classification of amounts received towards acreage contributions under 'Irrigation Development Fund' instead of under this head as in the previous year and to larger refunds.

The increase of Rs. '30 lakh appearing under Medical is due to larger receipts chiefly under Hospital Receipts. The increase of Rs. '54 lakh under Education is chiefly due to larger receipts from School fees and Examination fees.

G. Miscellaneous.—Increase of Rs. 1·60 lakhs.

The increase mainly appears under Surplus Revenue of Assigned Tract due to the receipt, during the year, of a sum of Rs. 1·42 lakhs from the Government of India towards short credit afforded during 1918-19 to 1935-36 to the pro forma account of the Bangalore Assigned Tract in respect of the Income-tax and Super-tax assessed on the profits of the branches of British Indian Assurance Companies operating in the Mysore Assigned Tract.

General Commercial Services.—Increase of Rs. 2·15 lakhs.

Under Railways, there is an improvement in receipts to an extent of Rs. 2·22 lakhs. This is brought about by an increase of Rs. 2·68 lakhs under Gross Receipts and of Rs. '44 lakh under Working Expenses and '02 lakh under Surplus Profits. The increase of Rs. 3·70 lakhs under Krishnarajasagara Hydro-electric and Irrigation Works is made up of an increase of Rs. 2·79 lakhs under Hydro-electric Works and of Rs. '91 lakh under Irrigation Works. There was a net profit of Rs. 24·38 lakhs under Iron and Steel Works and Cement Plant and the entire amount was transferred to the Depreciation Fund. Industrial works show a decrease of Rs. '43 lakh. Under Chamarajysagar and Water Works, there is a decrease of Rs. 3·32 lakhs and it is due to a fall of Rs. 3·02 lakhs under Gross Receipts and an increase of Rs. '30 lakh under Working Expenses.

Acreage Contribution from Irwin Canal Area.—Increase of Rs. 1·06 lakhs.

The contribution recovered from the Irwin Canal Area during the year was Rs. 4·35 lakhs against Rs. 3·29 lakhs in 1938-39,

REVENUE AND FINANCE

Debt Heads.—Under Investment Account, there was a net incoming of Rs. 51·42 lakhs as against Rs. 137·84 lakhs during the previous year. The transactions under Government and other Securities and Shares in Joint-Stock Companies have resulted in a net incoming of Rs. 111·61 lakhs due to the realisation and sale of certain securities while, in the previous year, the net incoming was only Rs. 73·22 lakhs. Under Treasury Bills and Fixed Deposits in Banks, there was a net outgoing of Rs. 60·19 lakhs as against a net incoming of Rs. 64·62 lakhs in 1938-39. The transactions under Insurance and Provident Funds resulted in a net incoming of Rs. 21·06 lakhs as against Rs. 12·10 lakhs in the previous year and the increase is mainly under the head "State Life Insurance Fund." This is due to the fact that, during the year 1938-39, a sum of Rs. 10 lakhs out of the Insurance Fund was invested in Mysore 3 per cent 1956-61 Loan, whereas no such investment was made during the year under report. Under Savings Bank Deposits, the net incoming was Rs. ·92 lakh as against Rs. 8·20 lakhs in the previous year. The decrease of Rs. 7·28 lakhs is mainly due to a fall in receipts under Savings Certificates. Under Endowment and other Accounts, there appears an increase of Rs. 1·73 lakhs in the net incomings due to large amounts received as Endowments. Under Reserve Funds, there was a net incoming of Rs. 46·90 lakhs as against a net outgoing of Rs. 183·92 lakhs during 1938-39. The large outgoing in the previous year was due to the withdrawal of a sum of Rs. 216·62 lakhs from the Sinking Fund consequent on the repayment of the 5½ per cent 1938 Loan on 1st November 1938 and its transfer to Government Account. This also explains the fall of Rs. 216·42 lakhs under Miscellaneous.

EXPENDITURE.

137. The following statement shows the expenditure during 1939-40 as compared with that of the previous year under the several group heads.

	Rupees in lakhs		REVENUE AND FINANCE
	1938-39	1939-40
A. Tribute—Subsidy to British Government ...	19·11	19·11
B. Revenue collection charges ...	49·07	48·76

I. Miscellaneous ...	98·53	106·47
J. Commercial Services ...	98·00	75·77
Total of Service and Capital Heads	495·49	491·74

The large variations are explained below :—

B. Revenue Collection Charges.—Decrease of Rs. '31 lakh.

The decrease is mainly the net result of an increase of Rs. 1·23 lakhs under Land Revenue and a decrease of Rs. 1·56 lakhs under Forest. The increase under the former head is chiefly due to increased expenditure consequent on the formation of the Mandya district and on account of the live-stock census and to larger payments on account of Remuneration to Shanbhogs and Patels. The decrease under Forest is mainly due to less expenditure under Conservancy and Works and to the absence of any expenditure during the current year on account of khedda operations as against Rs. '63 lakh incurred on this account during the previous year.

C. Administration.—Increase of Rs. 1·26 lakhs.

This increase is the net result of variations under several heads chiefly under General Administration, Stationery and Printing, Jails and Army.

A decrease of Rs. 2·75 lakhs appears under General Administration and is mainly due to the fact that an expenditure of Rs. 2·72 lakhs was incurred in the previous year in connection with the visit of His Excellency the Viceroy, whereas, an expenditure of only Rs. '12 lakh has been booked in the current year on that account. Besides, additional expenditure was incurred during the previous year on account of the Constitutional Reforms Committee and the Viduraswatha Disturbances Enquiry Committee. Under Stationery and Printing, there appears an increase of Rs. '62 lakh mainly due to larger expenditure on account of purchase of machines. Under Jails, the increase amounts to Rs. 1'24 lakhs and appears mainly under Jails and Lock-ups. This is due to the large increase in the prison population. The transactions under Jail manufactures also show a larger net outgoing (Rs. '20 lakh) in the current year than in the previous year. Portion of outlay on Marconaballi Reservoir transferred from 23. Irrigation Works charged to Revenue was Rs. 5·18 lakhs during the year as against Rs. 7·01 lakhs during 1938-39. 189. The demand on account of hissa fees from the commencement of operations amounted to Rs. 48,70,099 (Rs. 44,20,523). A sum of Rs. 1,36,408 (Rs. 1,04,520) was collected, bringing the total collections and remissions to Rs. 29,66,430. A heavy balance of Rs. 19,03,669 remained to be recovered at the end of the year. Against a total demand of Rs. 4,59,803 (Rs. 3,00,933) under mutation fees, a sum of Rs. 1,53,333 (Rs. 1,15,908) was recovered, leaving a balance of Rs. 3,06,470 (Rs. 1,85,025).

REVENUE AND

190. The scheme of collecting mutation fees along with registration fees at the time of the registration of documents was in force in 25 taluks.

Tanks.

191. There were 2,567 major and 20,837 minor tanks. One hundred and sixty-six (302) major and 67 (127) minor tanks were restored or repaired at a cost of Rs. 2,86,363 (Rs. 3,72,080) and Rs. 73,193 (Rs. 88,240), respectively. The value of earth work done by raiyats was Rs. 47,778 (Rs. 48,110) in respect of minor tanks. The number of chowthayi tanks was 228 and the maximum amount of remission admissible in respect of them was Rs. 5,319 (Rs. 5,541). One hundred and twenty-four of these tanks were in action and the rest were in disrepair.

Chowthayi
Tanks.

192. Chowthayi remission to the extent of Rs. 2,054 was withheld in respect of 103 tanks in disrepair or on account of non-execution of maintenance work to the tanks. The number of Tank Panchayets was 113.

Revenue
Money Orders.

193. Land revenue amounting to Rs. 37,929 (Rs. 38,526) was remitted by revenue money orders in 2,889 (2,989) cases.

Village
Forests.

194. There were at the end of the year 239 (238) Village forests.

195. The number of avenue trees planted during the year was 81,370 (91,034).

196. At the beginning of the year, 4,553 (4,905) decrees in favour of Co-operative Societies covering a total sum of Rs. 7,44,246 (Rs. 8,26,441) were pending execution by the Revenue department. Three thousand six hundred and sixty-six decrees covering Rs. 6,85,975 (Rs. 4,64,380) were received, bringing the total number of decrees for execution to 8,219 (7,604) involving Rs. 14,30,221 (Rs. 12,90,821). Of these, 3,193 (3,050) decrees involving Rs. 6,18,055 (Rs. 5,46,576) were disposed of. The number of decrees pending execution was 5,026 (4,554) involving Rs. 8,12,166 (Rs. 7,44,245). Special staff was entertained in seven taluks for speeding up collection work.

Decrees in

Co-operative

197. In pursuance of the scheme for supplying articles of furniture to taluk offices, a sum of Rs. 5,140 (Rs. 5,500) was spent in equipping 40 (20) taluk offices.

Furniture.

(iv) Transfers of land.

198. There were 14,098 (30,708) transfers of land involving an extent of 93,329 (89,074) acres by order of Civil and Revenue Courts. Transfers by private contracts and gifts numbered 48,382 (54,352) involving 151,487 (131,554) acres.

(v) Labour and Wages.

199. The wages of skilled and unskilled labour remained steady with slight variations in certain taluks. Labour was generally available and was amply provided for by the several industrial concerns in the State, viz., the Sugar Factory at Mandya, the Iron and Steel Works, Paper Mills and the Cement Factory at Bhadravati, as also by the electric schemes. Owing to the partial failure of the monsoons in certain parts of Mandya District, relief works were undertaken in parts of Nagamangala, Krishnarajpet and French-Rocks taluks. The construction of the Sagar-Talaguppa railway, of several public buildings in the Mandya District, and the fuel collection operation in the Shimoga District also provided further facilities for the employment of labour.

200. There was no unusual movement of people either from or into the State. As usual there was an influx of coolies during the working season from North and South Kanara Districts into the Malnad parts. The Hydro-electric scheme at Jog Falls attracted a large number of labourers from outside the State.

(vi) Inam Settlement.

201. Village service inams of an aggregate extent of 31 (20) acres were granted afresh in seven cases during the year. Thirty-eight (48) land inams of an aggregate area of 627 (435) acres were resumed by Government.

The heaviest rainfall in 24 hours for the year was at Hulikal in the Shimoga District where a fall of 11·52 inches of rain was recorded on the 14th July 1939.

(ii) Department of Agriculture.

Botanical
Section.

205. Sugarcane.—The Thick Cane Breeding Scheme of the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research was continued. Forty-nine varieties of cane evolved out of the 1933 batch of seedlings underwent comparative tests for yield in a randomised plot with four replications and the performance of some of these was far superior to those of the standard canes. H. M. 649 was found to be a good early cane maturing in eleven months, with the same richness and yield as H.M. 320. H. M. 661, a new medium cane of 12 months' duration, has been the best so far and it appears to be suited to a variety of conditions. H. M. 647 is another very good late cane. Both these canes have given much higher tonnage per acre than H. M. 320 and C. O. 419. Three hundred and sixty-six promising selections of seedlings raised from 1933-1938 are under test and 2,573 new seedlings have come up for study.

206. Cotton (Doddahatti).—All the important work in connection with New World cottons was concentrated in the Doddahatti scheme of the Indian Central Cotton Committee. An interesting combined seasonal and varietal test of the best New World cottons in India indicated high promise for the future of cotton sown in March as an irrigated crop in the Irwin Canal area. This is of great importance to the State which is importing large quantities of cotton annually. The results of the experiment indicated that M.A. 2 cotton yields the highest quantity of kappas in all seasons and that the best season for cotton in the Irwin Canal area is March, the yield gradually going down from March to October and rising from December to March. Of the several varieties, M. A. 2, C. O. 4,383 and C. O. 3,915 have given very remunerative yields of over 1,000 lbs. kappas per acre if sown in March. As a mungar dry crop M. A. 2 is replacing local Doddahatti in the Arsikere taluk. M.A. 2 has also been found to be suitable for intercropping with ragi and also for being grown alone. M.A. 2 cotton sown in mungar as a dry crop has done well in Closepet, Channapatna and Maddur taluks. Under irrigation in the Irwin Canal area experiments indicate scope for growing long-staple cottons like Kempala and Busoga also.

207. Asiatic cotton (Sannahatti).—Sel. 69, a pure-line selection from local Sannahatti has extended over nearly 20,000 acres in the Chitaldrug District. H. 190, a cross between Sel. 69 and G. Arboreum with better staple length and higher ginning percentage was issued to raiyats three years ago. It has spread over nearly 4,000 acres. C. N. 86 which has a high yield and ginning percentage is spreading fast in the red soil areas of the Chitaldrug District. Since neither of these was wilt-resistant, double crosses between H. 190, itself a cross, and another cross between Cernum and Nadam were effected and the result found to be resistant to wilt. Two strains of the double cross strains—166 and 299—which have inherited the high ginning percentage and wilt-resistance of the Cernum parent and the silkiness and yield of H. 190, were multiplied.

208. With a view to ascertaining whether any of the other standard Asiatic cottons in India with medium staple would give a higher yield to the raiyat, two comparative tests of eight varieties each, were laid out in Latin Squares in the Babbur Farm. The varieties under such test were Karunganni C7, Nandyal 14, Nadam-like, Gaorani, Karunganni KI, Late Verum, Jayavant, Strain 19 and 1027

209. A Paddy Specialist was appointed in May 1939. Greater attention was paid to the paddies grown in the malnad taluks which have the greater part of the area under paddy in the State.

210. Malnad paddy.—Intensive plant selections in malnad paddies were made during the year. In 27 varieties of Hain malnad paddy, 1,751 plant selections were made; and in seven varieties of semi-malnad paddy, 562 plant selections were made. Plant-breeding work in the malnad is now conducted in two subvention farms at Bikli and Ayyanur.

211. Maidan paddy.—Nine promising selections from Nellur sanna and thirteen selections from Basumati were multiplied for further study. Selections from Maharajabhogam were under study.

212. Semi-irrigated monsoon paddy.—About one thousand ear-head selections were made from Doddabhyra and other varieties in the punaji tracts of the Bangalore District as punaji is best suited to the irrigation conditions of the Bangalore and Kolar districts.

213. Summer paddy.—Two hundred and fifty-two plant selections were newly made from Giddabhyra the common summer paddy of the maidan districts. Seventy-two short-duration varieties were collected and tried in the Hebbal Farm and the Irwin Canal Farm and plant selections made therefrom.

214. Out of the crosses between Ganasale and G.E.B., 24, X 18 and X 194 have been issued to raiyats. X 194 has proved to be one of the heaviest yielders. Crosses between Nagpur sanna (S. 246) and Coimbatore sanna (G.E.B. 24) and also between Sakalathi sanna (S. 590) and Coimbatore sanna (G.E.B. 24) are in F. 2 generation.

215. Six classes of varietal tests of the main paddy selections of the Nagenahalli Paddy Breeding Station on statistical lay-outs were conducted. The results of the varietal trials indicated the best strains to be X 194, X 139, S. 799, S. 969 in the Nagenahalli Farm, S. 139 and S. 661 in the Irwin Canal Farm and Walya 3629 and Honasu 529 in the Marthur Farm.

216. Dry land paddy.—The dry land paddy varieties Mundaga and Murudiga which are now cultivated by raiyats purely as a rain-fed dry crop on low-lying lands even in areas with about 25 inches rainfall are under examination. Selections have been made therefrom for white and fine rice.

217. Ragi.—Several plant selections for earliness and yield were made. Three varietal trials of ragi on statistical plots were conducted in the Irwin Canal Farm, one of ten varieties with six replications, another of 16 varieties with eight replications and a third of 25 varieties with five replications. The results indicated the superiority of K. 1 E.S. 11, E.C. 593 and E.C. 3735.

218. Groundnut.—Fifty plant selections were made in the erect varieties, Spanish, Valencia and Bunch Virginia. Twenty-three selections were made in the erect varieties. In the Irwin Canal Farm varietal trials on statistical plots were conducted under irrigated conditions. These were one of seven varieties of groundnuts, another of 36 varieties and another of five varieties. Statistical trial of the promising hybrids is in progress in the Hebbal Farm. Satara Grey of Bombay gave a slightly higher yield than H.G. 1, which is becoming more popular. A groundnut seasonal experiment with five varieties and five replications of each sown every month under irrigation was in progress. The varieties selected are H.G. 1, Valencia, Spanish, Satara Grey and Sogatur. A large number of selections of other dry crops such as castor, pulses, etc., were under observation. Two hundred and sixty-five collections of castor from several parts of the State were under study and several selections have been made in the Babbur Farm.

219. The chief item of work in the Chemical Section during the year was the determination of the optimum manurial requirements of the principal crops. Experiments so far conducted indicate the optimum manurial requirements of sugarcane in the Irwin Canal area to be 400 to 500 lbs. N., 60 to 80 lbs. P_2O_5 and 50 lbs. K_2O per acre. Another experiment conducted was to determine the optimum ratio of organic to inorganic nitrogen. It has been found that a

Chemical Section.

CO-OPN. &
FORESTS.

combination of half organic and half inorganic was the best and that three-fourths organic and one-fourth inorganic was the next best. This result is valuable from the point of view of both economy and preservation of soil fertility. A large quantity of organic nitrogen can be provided in the form of green manure, compost and cakes.

220. Paddy.—The manurial experiments carried on during the year indicated the following interesting conclusions :—

(1) Compost even in increasing doses up to four tons did not promote the yield.

(2) Increasing doses of nitrogen as ammonium sulphate gave increasing yields of paddy, up to 30 lbs. nitrogen per acre.

(3) There was no response to increasing doses of superphosphate.

(4) Four tons honge-leaf per acre gave significantly higher yields.

All the experiments conducted so far indicate the need for wider use of green manure for paddy.

221. Cigarette tobacco.—The manurial experiments conducted on cigarette tobacco yielded some useful results. The mixture 8 N : 20 P : 10 K was found to be significantly better than the mixtures in vogue in some foreign countries apart from its being much cheaper. Three hundred and thirty lbs. of this mixture has been adopted as the manurial formula for cigarette tobacco. As regards time of application, a week before transplanting was found suitable.

222. Manurial experiments on irrigated ragi and irrigated cotton are in progress, though no definite results in respect of yield have been obtained. A large number of soil samples were analysed. The coffee quality scheme of the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research was in progress and the preliminary report of the first year was submitted to the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research. The preparation of activated carbon was continued for the use of the Irwin Canal Farm and of raiyats for the preparation of clean jaggery and boora sugar. It has been demonstrated that the use of activated carbon for the preparation of boora sugar is profitable.

223. On account of the early heavy rains "Koleroga" appeared in an epidemic form. Chemicals for spraying 15,000 acres of areca valued at Rs. 50,000 were issued to areca plantations. Arrangements were made with a local firm to manufacture one-gallon sprayers as they could not be imported from Europe on account of the war. A new resin-paste prepared in the Government Soap Factory, Bangalore, was found more useful than the usual lime-caseinate, in the preparation of the adhesive.

224. "Benkiroga" (Pericularia oryzae) of paddy was controlled to some extent by dusting the nursery with sulphur. Disinfection of seeds with ceresan was found useful in controlling "Karikaddiroga" (Ephelis oryzae). The Senior Assistant Mycologist inspected the cigarette tobacco nurseries licensed by the Department and gave instructions regarding the spraying of the nurseries with one per cent Bordeaux mixture once a week.

225. Sugarcane borer control.—The stem-borer of sugarcane was controlled over a large area by earthing up and by releasing Trichogramma. The control of the top-borer by systematic collection of egg-masses by employing the agency of children was continued. Over 20,00,000 of egg masses were thus collected and destroyed at a cost of Rs. 1,400. Three thousand and twenty-seven parasite cards of Trichogramma were prepared and released. Parasite cards for 47 acres of crop were supplied to the United Provinces and Bihar. The beneficial results of the release of Trichogramma were confirmed by the experiments conducted in British India.

Entomologi-
cal Section.

226. Coffee Stem-borer.—Under the Pest Act the borer-infested coffee bushes destroyed during the year numbered 42,53,192 or 10 lakhs more than the previous year. Observations regarding the life-cycle of the borer were continued in the Balehonnur Coffee Station.

227. Other pests.—Experiments regarding the control of cardamom thrips by spray and dusting with insecticides were continued. Cotton in the Irwin Canal Farm was found to be infested with both the pink boll-worm and the spotted boll-worm. The study of the life history, habits and incidence of the paddy stem-borer was continued. The jola grass-hopper appeared as a pest in Jagalur and there are indications that the pest would become virulent in the next one or two years as it did 30 years ago in the Chitaldrug District.

AGRI.,

228. Propaganda to popularise bee-keeping was continued. Short courses were held and the 12 apiary demonstration centres continued to work during the year. As a result of continued propaganda, 282 improved beehives were introduced into Chikmagalur and 309 into Saklespur taluks during the last two years. A Bee-Keepers' Co-operative Society at Saklespur was started during the year and 7,000 lbs. of honey were collected.

Experimental Farms :
Hebbal Farm.

229. This farm continued to be the central place for field experiments of the dry crops, ragi and groundnut. As the tank received a good supply of water the farm was able to conduct some experiments with paddy also. The cultivated area of the farm consisted of 82 acres under dry crops and 13 acres under irrigated crops. In one set of varietal trials of 15 varieties of ragi the results in the order of yield in seers of grain per acre were H. 45 (1079) H. 39 (938), H. 71 (925), H. 2 (900), Dharani (897½), H. 58 (811). The other varieties including H. 22 yielded 500 seers and below. These results are important as all these varieties excelled H. 22, the standard ragi for the area, Dharani ragi maturing about two weeks earlier. The results of a varietal trial of 18 varieties of groundnut in yield per acre in lbs. were as follows:—Spanish 972, H. G. (1) 828, Big Japan 684. Spanish Improved 648, Barbados 630. The other varieties yielded below 500 lbs. per acre. Thirty-nine varieties of paddy compared for yield gave the following results in seers of grain per acre:—S. 615, 1,870 seers, S. 683, 1,800 seers, S. 625, 1,720 seers, S. 624, 1,630 seers, S. 769, 1,600 seers, S. 701, 1,600 seers. The other varieties yielded below 1,600 seers per acre. Among summer paddies, S. 705 (Bangarakaddi) was found to be the best.

Paddy Breeding Station, Nagenahally.

230. The farm had a paddy area of about 42 acres. Rainfall during the year was 27·11 inches. The total yield of paddy in the farm has increased from 1,187 seers per acre in 1929-30 to 1,525 seers per acre in 1939-40. The strains of paddy which have given the highest yields per acre are S. 699, a selection from Coimbatore sanna (1,960 seers),

S. 769 (1,895 seers), a selection from Ratnachoodi, S. 624 (1,800 seers), Maharajabhogam S. 749 (1,780 seers), another selection from Ratnachoodi.

231. The following manurial experiments were conducted on a statistical lay-outs:—

(1) General manurial experiments on three varieties—Coimbatore sanna, Kembuti and Kaddi sanna—with three levels of nitrogen and phosphoric acid,

(2) two kinds of green manures such as hongey, and mixed legumes at four levels, and

(3) compost at four levels.

232. The results indicated progressive response to nitrogen and green manure but not to compost.

233. There has been heavy demand for the seed produced in the Farm, despite the price which is higher than the market rates. 45,676 seers of paddy seed were distributed from this farm during the year. The net expenditure of the farm has been reduced to about Rs. 1,000 a year.

234. The cultivated area of this farm consisted of 70 Babbur Farm acres under cotton, jola, and groundnut, ten acres under cocoanut, 43 acres under sugarcane and the rest under miscellaneous crops. Rainfall during the year was 25.98 inches. Bulk trials of three improved strains of cotton were conducted in comparison with Jayavant, the standard cotton of the adjoining tracts of Bombay. The yields obtained were 228 lbs. kappas for H. 190, 224 lbs. for Jayavant, 205 lbs. for Sel. 69 and 180 lbs. for Str. 19. A comparative test was conducted to find out if any of the other standard Asiatic cottons in India would give higher yields in this area. The results in terms of lint per acre were:—local Nadam, 65 lbs., local sannahatti, 61 lbs., Sel. 69, 60 lbs., H. 190, 55 lbs., late verum 55 lbs., strain 19, 52 lbs. Jayavanth 51 lbs., karunganni C. 7, 51 lbs. All the others yielded less than 50 lbs. The experiments have been repeated for confirmation. An experiment conducted to test whether the spacing of three feet between the rows of cotton, adopted in the local agricultural practice, was the best, showed that reduction of the space from three feet to two feet increased the yield of cotton per acre by nearly 18 per cent. The reduced spacing is being popularised with raiyats in the area.

AGRI.,
CO-OPN. &
FORESTS.

235. Seasonal experiments with statistical lay-outs for five varieties of American cottons in four seasons indicated the higher yield of M. A. 2 in all seasons and all the cottons indicated May to be the best season for sowing American cottons in this area.

236. Comparative yield tests on statistical lay-outs were conducted with several varieties of groundnuts. The three varieties which gave the highest yield per acre were A. H. 25 (Madras), Spanish (local) and Satara Grey (Bombay).

237. Comparative yield tests of ragi with 16 varieties indicated Marangere, E. C. 593, K. 1 and H. 22 to be the best for the locality.

238. To facilitate the extension of the area under cocoanut and sugarcane, 8,27,250 seed sets of sugarcane and 9,231 cocoanut seedlings were issued at concession prices from this farm. This area has been found to be well suited to ratoon canes.

Coffee Experimental Station, Balehonnur.

239. The farm had a total rainfall of 109.56 inches. The cultivated area of the farm was 128 acres under coffee, two acres under cardamom and five acres under orchard.

240. Experiments with peronox and Bordeaux were continued for the control of leaf-disease. The average yield for nine years on the experimental plot indicated the highest yield for the pre- and post-monsoon spraying with half per cent Bordeaux. Selfed progeny of the high yielders which are comparatively resistant to two strains of leaf-diseases were continued under test. Nine hundred and forty-three hybrid seedlings and 2,919 selfed seedlings were planted out during the year. One thousand three hundred and eleven hybrid seedlings and 2,295 selfed seedlings are awaiting planting.

241. For combining the desirable characters of different varieties of cardamom several crosses and reciprocal crosses were made between the varieties of Saklespur, Kesaholalu, Cowcody, Valparai and Elongated. One hundred and seventy-eight hybrid seedlings of 1937-38 were planted and 802 hybrid seedlings have been raised from crosses made in 1938-39. One thousand and seventy-eight selfed seedlings were also raised.

242. Coffee seeds from the selected progeny of selection 288 were issued to planters for trial as the selection 288-20 was found to be a good yielder and also resistant to two strains of leaf-disease.

243. This farm was started for carrying on experimental work for the control of koleroga on areca. It is just on the borders of the Bombay Presidency and does not represent the typical malnad or semi-malnad and there is thus not much scope for useful work. The farm has since been ordered to be closed.

Marthur
Farm.

244. The manurial experiments conducted on sugarcane have indicated (i) the optimum remunerative dose of nitrogen for sugarcane to be 400 to 500 lbs. N per acre, (ii) the optimum requirements of phosphoric acid to be 50 to 60 lbs., per acre, (iii) that half to three-fourths of the nitrogen requirements of cane may with advantage be supplied as organic nitrogen in the form of green-manure, compost and mixed oil-cakes.

245. The varietal trials of sugarcane have indicated that several of the new canes evolved under the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research Thick-cane Breeding Scheme are far superior to the present standard canes in respect of the yield of sucrose per acre, H. M. 661 and 647 being the most promising canes.

246. In the trial of 21 varieties of monsoon paddy, S. 139 kaddi, and selections 661, 669 and 684 from Coimbatore sanna gave significantly high yields of 12, 11 and 11 pallas per acre respectively. In the trial of seven varieties of summer paddy in a Latin Square Chintamani sanna gave the highest yield of 19 pallas per acre followed by 15 pallas each of halubbalu and bangarakaddi.

247. It has been found that M. A. 2 cotton sown in March is capable of yielding over 1,000 lbs. seed cotton per acre as against nearly 150 lbs., if sown in October. The prospects of cotton as an alternative money crop for the Irwin Canal area are encouraging.

248. Experiments in the cultivation of cigarette tobacco as an irrigated crop in the Farm have proved beyond doubt the prospects of success of this crop as an alternative money-crop in the area. As a result of the experiments conducted on this Farm the area under cigarette tobacco is increasing in Honnakere.

249. The scheme for the development of the cane-crushing and boiling plant and of the preparation of activated carbon sanctioned by Government was operative during the year. Fourteen thousand two hundred and twenty-six maunds of ordinary jaggery, 940 maunds of cream jaggery and 1,158 maunds of boora sugar were prepared.

250. The total number of students in the school at the end of the year rose to 58 (49). Thirty-one were admitted during the year. Twenty-seven scholarships were granted. Nineteen students appeared for the final diploma examination of whom 14 passed. With the intention of providing agricultural careers for the passed students of this school and also for other educated young men, an agricultural colony was established in the Irwin Canal area. Ten colonists of whom six are passed students in agriculture, have been settled on blocks of land comprising 15 acres irrigated and ten acres of dry land. They have been given an advance of Rs. 1,000 for a house, Rs. 500 for equipment and Rs. 500 for cultivation expenses. The irrigated lands are given on lease for six years, the price to be paid by them in ten instalments from the 7th year. Ten acres of dry land have also been given free to each. The colonists have started work and they are expected to grow cigarette tobacco to start with.

(b) Vernacular
Agricultural Schools.

251. In the Ramakrishna KrishiSala the original course of one year's training was increased to a two-years' course with effect from 1st July 1939. There were 20 students in the first year class and 12 out of 13 passed students of the previous year continued for the second year's practical course. In addition to practical agriculture the students were given training in veterinary work, workshop practice and spinning and carding. The students were specially trained in all branches of cigarette tobacco cultivation, viz., preparation of seed, raising a nursery, cultivation and manuring, picking, stringing, curing and also grading. The Sri Krishnarajendra Vyavasaya Dharma Patasala continued to be popular. Twenty-four students were selected for admission during the year, 21 sat for the examination of whom 19 passed. The boys were trained in poultry-farming in the farm attached to the school. The poultry-farm has since been developed to a flock of 100 birds. Training in carpentry and smithy is a feature of the institution. Minor implements like cultivators and seed drills made in the Patasala were also sold. The starting of the Somanahalli Agricultural School was sanctioned in April 1939. Thirty acres of dry land and 10 acres of wet land were acquired for the purpose and the school opened on the 1st July 1939 with a strength of 17 students. Out of the 13 students who sat for the examination 10 passed.

252. The programme of construction work was heavy on account of the buildings for the sheepbreeding centres at Hebbal and Ajjampur, Poultry-farms at several centres, the new Cattle-breeding Station at Hunsur and others. The value of construction work during the year amounted to Rs. 65,300.

Agricultural Engineering.

253. In the Agricultural Workshop 192 major work orders and 360 minor jobs were carried out, as against 342 job works in the previous year. Total transactions carried out through the workshops amounted to Rs. 9,700. Two tractors, one Mc Cormic Deering type 30 H.P. and a Case tractor of 40 H.P. were purchased for Rs. 12,250, for being hired out to raiyats. Though the tractors were purchased late, 270 acres of raiyats' land were ploughed in addition to lands in the Departmental farms.

254. A total of 3,857 demonstration plots were laid in the raiyats' fields. In almost all these cases the seeds and manure were given free. As a consequence of these demonstration plots in raiyats' fields the demand for improved varieties of seed has increased considerably. To cope with this demand, seed farms were started for all the crops as indicated below :—

256. Amrit Mahal. The strength of cattle in Amrit Mahal herds at the close of the year was 1,784 (2,352). There were 215 (382) births and 201 (468) deaths, the birth and death rates being 17·7 (28·4) and 7·8 (18·4) per cent respectively. Three hundred and fourteen animals were sold by public auction and a total sum of Rs. 4,753 was realised. Forty-one of the animals sold were between three and four years old and fetched Rs. 2,045, making an average of Rs. 50 per animal as against Rs. 26 realised last year.

257. The total demand of the Amrit Mahal Section under all heads exclusive of the previous year's arrears amounted to Rs. 40,148 (Rs. 40,291), the principal items being income from kavals Rs. 12,258, sale of bulls Rs. 11,968, temporary cultivation Rs. 12,634, dairy produce Rs. 1,278. The demand for the year inclusive of arrears was Rs. 74,679 (Rs. 77,859). A sum of Rs. 32,768 (Rs. 43,329) was collected.

258. An area of 7,865 (6,748) acres was leased out for gram cultivation and a sum of Rs. 12,531 (Rs. 13,748) was brought on demand towards the stipulated yield of 1,939 (1,743) pallas. Out of this 530 pallas worth about Rs. 3,535 was collected and utilised for feeding the Amrit Mahal herds. A total extent of 21,573 acres of land was relinquished to the Revenue department for disposal.

259. Ajjampur. The total strength of cattle at the Ajjampur Cattle Breeding Station, and its sub-stations was 895 (892). The number of calves born was 166 (127). The total number of deaths was 17 (54). The scheme of selling bull calves in addition to adult bulls introduced in the previous year was very popular. Eighty-six animals consisting of 37 bulls, 31 bull-calves, 10 bullocks, 3 cows and 5 heifers were sold for Rs. 6,390. The total quantity of milk produced was 24,970 (32,708) lbs. Realisations from the sale of dairy produce amounted to Rs. 1,527 (Rs. 1,438).

260. Hunsur. In view of the decided advantages of breeding the Amrit Mahal stock on farming lines instead of rearing them on the ranching system in the Amrit Mahal department, a new Cattle Breeding Station at Hunsur was started. The strength of the stock was 234. There were 18 births and 33 deaths during the year.

Breeding
Stations.

261. Hebbal. The strength of the herd in the Dairy Farm was 70. Seventeen calves were born during the year. The dairy farm was progressing well, the total realisations being Rs. 1,676 (Rs. 2,407).

262. Sheep-breeding was continued at Hebbal, Yellachihalli and Ajjampur. The total strength in the three places was 607 (573). The births and deaths were 223 (217) and 94 (144), respectively.

Sheep
Breeding.

263. The Kolar Sheep Breeders' Association had 298 (290) members. The number of sheep under the control of the Association was 15,700 (15,000), of which 5,500 (5,000) were local white, 1,500 (1,600) cross-bred and the rest were mixed. The number of animals machine-shorn was 19,915 (19,911). Dipping with 'kymac' lotion was continued. Five thousand three hundred and eighty-four sheep were thus treated. The total quantity of wool received from members was 6,445 lbs. (5,118 lbs.) apart from 4,625 lbs. of mixed wool purchased from the local wool dealers.

264. The Sheep Breeders' Association, Mysore, was started for the Mysore district on the same lines as the one at Kolar. Two thousand four hundred and seventy sheep were machine shorn and 1,412 (1,399) were dipped with 'kymac' lotion.

265. Sheep improvement work was taken up in the Closepet Rural Welfare Centre. A Sheep Breeders' Association was started at Closepet and it has 29 members and the number of sheep under its control is 680.

266. Poultry farming received increased attention. In addition to the centres already existing at Hebbal, Ajjampur, Nagenahalli, Yellachihalli and Closepet, new centres were opened at Sree Krishnarajendra Vyavasaya Dharma Patasala, Chikkanhalli, Shimoga and Chickmagalur. The total egg production in all the centres was 64,937 (60,489). Five thousand and seventy-three eggs were incubated, the highest percentage in a single batch being as high as 90 (92.3). Three hundred and sixty-five cocks, 66 hens, 830 chicken and 5,830 fertile eggs for hatching were sold. The total income of the poultry farms was Rs. 9,767 and the expenditure was Rs. 11,884.

Condition of
industry.

267. The silk industry in general continued to suffer owing to the stock of imported foreign silks being sold at lower rates than the local manufactures. The prices of the Mysore raw silk and cocoons, however, showed an improvement from December 1939 with the rise in prices of Chinese silks from that period.

Area under mulberry.

268. The area under mulberry increased from 27,188 acres in 1938-39 to 30,000 acres during the year. One hundred and fifty cart-loads of mulberry cuttings and 16,500 saplings were supplied from Government Silk farms to the sericulturists free of cost. There were at the end of the year 88 mulberry topes. With a view to growing a large number of mulberry trees as early as possible, arrangements were made in co-operation with the Forest department to raise mulberry trees in forests near about the sericultural areas. Grafting experiments were undertaken to combine the good qualities of the local mulberry with those of the foreign varieties, a number of which suited to tropical climates have been obtained from Japan, Korea, and China and have been planted in Government farms. The results obtained so far are encouraging. The grafted plants bear much bigger leaves than either the local mulberry or the pure foreign varieties grown here by themselves, and the yield is nearly twice as much as that obtained by the local seedling bush.

Seed supply.

269. Nine Government and 27 aided grainages worked during the year. The adverse seasonal conditions during the first half of the year affected the demand for disease-free layings. In spite of this the Government grainages were able to maintain their level of production. The total supply of disease-free layings from Government grainages to sericulturists was 46,95,811 (46,26,296) and the quantity supplied from the aided grainages was 5,717,482 (5,406,030). As the demand for cross-breed layings has been very heavy and as the existing institutions have not been able to cope with the demand, Government have sanctioned the starting of one Government grainage at Ummathur and ten more aided grainages at other places. The Department paid special attention to the rearing of foreign races of silk-worms and to increasing the supply of higher and quicker yielding cross-breed layings, the demand for which is steadily increasing. In certain cases the yield for 100 disease-free layings of foreign races has increased to 88 lbs. and for 100 cross-breed layings to 98 lbs.

270. Experimental work in regard to (i) hibernation of imported univoltine and bivoltine silk-worm eggs, and (ii) refrigeration of seed cocoons and eggs from the same (combined) undertaken during 1938-39 at the Government Silk Farm, Channapatna, continued to be carried on.

Research,
experiment
and propaganda.

271. Experiments conducted on the farms related to manures suited to mulberry and correlated rearings, improvement of local mulberry grafting, comparative merits of bush and tree mulberry leaf and of leaves from seedlings and cuttings, the rearing and crossing of foreign races of silk-worms, the preservation of silk-worm eggs and cocoons by refrigeration, the determination of the sex of pupæ in cocoons and the value of seed cocoons obtained from different localities for purposes of propagation.

272. The staff on propaganda work toured in the several sericultural areas, collected statistics, ascertained the requirements of the sericulturists in regard to mulberry cuttings, mulberry saplings and disease-free layings, and arranged for supplies of these requirements in time from Government farms and aided grainages. Improved methods of rearing, such as brushing eggs gently before hatching, to secure uniform hatching, giving suitable feeding and space to the young worms, cleaning the worms by using paddy husk, mounting worms thinly on chandrikes and harvesting of cocoons on the fourth day of mounting were all demonstrated in the rearing houses of sericulturists, many of whom adopted these improvements with satisfactory results. The sericulturists were shown the advantages of using the powder of groundnut oil cake and ammonium sulphate as manure for mulberry gardens and some of them applied those manures with good results. Arrangements were made to stock such manure for sale in the Central Silk Farms.

273. With a view to studying how far the existing foreign races of silk-worms in Mysore could be improved by conducting rearings in a hill station, the starting of a silk farm on the Biligirirangan hills was sanctioned, as an experimental measure. For use in the above research schemes, layings of ten new races of foreign worms most of which were of European origin, were imported from Kashmir, Punjab, Assam, Persia and France.

Filature and reeling.

274. The Mysore Silk Filatures, Ltd., continued to work two filatures, one at Mysore and the other at T.-Narsipur. The filature at T.-Narsipur was expanded by installing additional basins and the total number of basins in the filature owned by the Company amounted to 150 basins of which 48 basins worked at Mysore. A quantity of about 20,900 lbs. of silk was produced in these filatures. There was a ready demand in India for the silk produced and some quantity of silk was supplied to Australia also and further enquiries have been received from this country. As the demand for well reeled high grade Mysore silk is steadily on the increase, the Mysore Silk Filatures, Ltd., propose to start two more branches at suitable centres. The Mysore Spun Silk Mills, Ltd., at Channapatna also propose to start a filature as an adjunct to the Mills.

275. The silk testing section of the Department which was started at Mysore during 1938-39 continued to work and issued certificates.

(iv) Civil Veterinary Department.Contagious diseases.

276. The incidence of rinderpest was severe in the Bangalore district and spread to all the taluks. The Kolar district which was free from the disease for the past few years got infection from the bordering Madras Presidency. By timely action, the epidemic was brought under control. The disease also appeared in seven taluks of the Tumkur district. In the Shimoga and Hassan districts timely action was taken to suppress the disease by preventing the movement of cattle from the infected areas. The number of animals protected was 70,057 (101,602).

277. Anthrax was severe in Nagamangala taluk. The number of animals protected against the disease was 36,960 (28,865). Haemorrhagic septicæmia was less severe than in the previous year. Including the two pending from the last year there were 400 outbreaks during the year; 387 (458) were attended to and 20,152 (23,525) inoculations performed.

278. There were 81 (79) veterinary institutions in the State. The number of fresh cases admitted for treatment was 324,319 (355,888) and the number of operations and castrations conducted was 23,458 (22,438) and 36,645 (31,081), respectively.

Veterinary Hospitals and Dispensaries.

279. The veterinary officers treated 66,174 (82,802) cases, operated on 1,214 (1,792) cattle and castrated 62,662 (52,146) animals during their tours. The staff attended 116 (97) cattle fairs.

Rural veterinary aid.

280. The work on Johne's disease, subsidised by the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research, was continued. The period of sanction for the scheme terminating by the end of July 1940, a request was made to the Council for its extension for a further period of two years.

Scientific
Section.

281. Many generous endowments for the construction of veterinary institutions were received.

(v) The Serum Institute.

282. The Mysore Serum Institute prepared and supplied to places outside the State and to the Mysore Civil Veterinary Department 254,455 (265,000) and 364,932 (469,000) unit doses, respectively, of products of various kinds. The quantity of black-quarter bacterin supplied to the Department was 180,938 (177,600) unit doses. The Governments of Hyderabad, Patiala, Jodhpur, Ajmeer, Agra, Lucknow, Gwalior, Bhavnagar, Kathiawar States, Poona, Allahabad, Pondicherry, Coimbatore, Coorg and many other Indian States and British Indian Provinces continued to obtain their requirements from the Institute. The new biological products of the Institute were (1) anti-rinderpest serum; (2) anti-anthrax serum; (3) anti-hæmorrhagic septicæmia serum; (4) anti-blackquarter serum; (5) anti-fowl-cholera serum; (6) hæmorrhagic septicæmia vaccine; (7) blackquarter bacterin; (8) fowl-cholera vaccine; (9) sheep-pox vaccine; (10) rinderpest bull virus; (11) rinderpest goat virus and (12) poultry worm pills. The vaccines prepared in the Research Section were (1) anthrax saponine vaccine; (2) anti-rabic vaccine and (3) fowl-pox vaccine. These were supplied free of cost for field trial. The scientific section prepared and distributed Urine Hormone.

283. The revenue realised from the sale of the biologicals was Rs. 1,02,289 (Rs. 1,17,900), as against a total expenditure of Rs. 72,108.

284. The Institute was visited by several distinguished persons from all over India.

(vi) Condition of the people.Seasonal Conditions.

285. The rainfall was more than that in the previous year and adequate, except in parts of the Kolar and Tumkur districts. It was not quite timely in some parts of the Mysore, Hassan, Mandya, Shimoga and Kolar districts as the early mungar rains held off for a while retarding the sowing operations. The subsequent rains eased the situation. In the Tumkur district the hingar rains were held up in some taluks, reducing the yield expected from dry crops. The outturn of crops was, however, generally good and the seasonal conditions were on the whole satisfactory. Remissions of assessment were granted on a liberal scale in places where there was total or partial failure of crops.

286. There was no marked variations in the prices of food stuffs and agricultural produce. As a result of the outbreak of war in Europe, there was a tendency for prices of essential commodities to rise. This was checked by the measures adopted by the Central and District committees appointed for controlling and fixing prices. Markets were well supplied with food grains. The labour classes found adequate employment. The several relief measures, public works and industrial schemes undertaken by the Government contributed to the prosperity of the people.

mortality.

287. There was a decrease in the total number of deaths of cattle in the State. But in respect of deaths due to sickness, the mortality in the Kolar, Tumkur and Mysore districts increased. Blackquarter, anthrax rinderpest, foot and mouth diseases and other epidemics that appeared in certain parts were promptly brought under control by the preventive measures taken by the officers of the Veterinary Department.

Nineteen State forests with an aggregate area of 700 sq. miles inclusive of enclosures and overlaps were surveyed. In addition, special survey works were done in five places. One thousand five hundred and fifty copies of maps of former years and 18 copies of maps received printed were hand coloured. Maps of 19 State forests were fair-drawn and made ready for printing. The southern half of an up-to-date State forest map of Mysore was compiled. The fair-drawn map of six State forests surveyed during 1938-39 on a scale of four inches to a mile and one consolidated working plan map of the forests of Bhadravati division on a scale of one inch to a mile were printed and published.

312. Out of a total area of 3,693'91 square miles of State forests, 1,891'82 square miles were provided with regular working plans, and 499'31 square miles with provisional working plans. Four thousand nine hundred and fifteen acres and five guntas were traversed by the enumeration party at a cost of Rs. 1,180. Twenty-two thousand, nine hundred and fifty trees were enumerated during the year. Of these, 22,135 trees were healthy, 624 dying and 191 dead. 316. The natural regeneration of teak in all forests was poor, while that of honne in the deciduous and semi-moist belts, nagasampige, kiralbhogi, devadari and wild cardamom in felled areas, regenerated profusely in the moist evergreen zones. The regeneration of nandi, mathi, dindiga, jambe and yettega in the deciduous belt and of dhuma, sura-honne, dhupa and balagi in the ghat forests was satisfactory. In the Kolar district, the regeneration of bilijale, devadari, kare, chigare and seethapala was fair.

Extensive plantings of casuarina were carried out in the Bangalore, Kolar, Hassan Tumkur and Mysore districts and at Bhadravati to meet the growing demand for this class of wood in cities and for industrial purposes. The Agri-cum-Forestry method of raising casuarina plantations was continued and gave good results. Important fuel species were raised by sowing in all the maidan tracts. Afforestation work continued on the Chamundi, Gopalaswami, Bababudan, Ratnagiri and Nandi hills, in the Talkad sand dunes and Hulikere blocks. Large plantations of economic species like eucalyptus, cinchona, cashewnut, tamarind and honne were raised in some of the divisions. On account of the growing importance of non-teak timber, raising of plantations of mixed species of soft woods on a large scale has been started.

321. The quantities of timber cut in forests brought to depots and sold during the year were 707,455 (760,475), 636,809 (703,616) and 579,658 (601,719) cubic feet, respectively. General.

333. The total rail-borne trade in merchandise registered an increase from 21,470,895 maunds* valued at Rs. 20,75,56,152 in 1938-39 to 22,688,179 maunds valued at Rs. 21,73,86,122 in 1939-40. There was thus an increase of 5·6 per cent in volume and 4·7 per cent in value. This was due to increases both under imports and exports.

Imports.

334. The total imports by railway were 14,866,491 maunds (14,257,786 maunds) valued at Rs. 12,71,71,485 (Rs. 12,37,52,348). There was a decline under imports in rice from 5·23 lakhs of pallas in 1938-39 to 4·54 lakhs of pallas during the year. This was more than offset by the increase in imports of wheat and wheat flour which rose from 447,718 maunds in 1938-39 to 489,660 maunds in 1939-40. Raw material imports showed a considerable increase from 5,829,001 maunds to 6,462,024 maunds. There was a marked increase in the case of petrol and kerosine oil also. Imports of these amounted to 2,752,375 gallons and 4,397,486 gallons, respectively, as against 2,612,993 gallons and 3,819,090 gallons in the previous year. In the case of raw cotton, the quantity imported increased by 1·4 per cent from 247,653 maunds in 1938-39 to 251,104 maunds. Manufactures and machinery also registered an increase. The quantity of manufactures imported amounted to 3,817,062 maunds valued at Rs. 7,75,07,947 and the value of machinery imported was estimated at Rs. 118·54 lakhs (Rs. 87 lakhs).

corriander, and tobacco; while there was falling off under jawar, bajra, coffee, groundnut seed, cocoanut, betel-nut, cardamom and refined sugar. In the case of coffee, however, the figures of export by rail are not material because the bulk of the exports from the State are by road through the frontier toll-gates. One hundred and thirty-two thousand nine hundred and one maunds and 6,892 maunds respectively of betel-nuts and cardamom were exported as compared with 139,731 maunds and 9,704 maunds in the previous year. The exports of refined sugar declined from 565,898 maunds valued at Rs. 56,94,349 in 1938-39 to 420,614 maunds valued at Rs. 54,50,780 in 1939-40. In the case of raw materials there was a decrease in exports of groundnut seed and groundnut oil. The quantity of groundnut seed exported was 644,679 maunds (1,018,865 maunds). In the case of groundnut oil though there was a decrease in volume from 63,139 maunds to 53,371 maunds, there was an increase in value due to rise in prices. The exports of copra also decreased from 361,142 maunds valued at Rs. 40,52,161 to 283,652 maunds valued at Rs. 42,91,782.

gold.

458. Minerals produced in the State, other than gold, include iron, chromite, kaolin, magnesite, manganese, copper, mica, slatestone, soapstone, quartz, felspar and ornamental stones. The area covered by the mining leases and prospecting licenses was 59,279 (70,516) acres. In addition, about 12 acres of land were held under licenses for quarrying ornamental stones. The number of mining leases, licenses and certificates of approval current was 151 (145).

459. The Department of Geology collected 167 (888) tons of chromite from the Byrapur and the Talur Mines and sold 525 (515) tons for Rs. 4,915 (Rs. 5,764). The Department also supplied 108·6 tons of graphite to the Mysore Iron and Steel Works and 393 tons of felspar, 170 tons of quartz, 46 tons of pegmatite and 580 tons of kaolin to the Government Porcelain Factory. The Mysore Iron and Steel Works mined 53,052 (38,139) tons of iron ore, 892 (581) tons of manganese ore, 35,050 (32,012) tons of limestone and 1,413 tons of dolomite. In addition, 542·5 tons of Bhagespur kaolin were also mined.

Geological Survey.

460. The following areas, comprising about 325 sq. miles of country, were surveyed during the year for special purposes :—

(1) Three hundred square miles in portions of the Western Ghats, in the Mudgere and Koppa taluks, were surveyed to ascertain if there would be any need for a large scale detailed survey to modify the existing geological map of that region in the light of recent investigations, and also to find out if there were any workable deposits of economic minerals. The area failed to disclose any valuable mineral deposits excepting some patches of iron ore, ochres and impure China clay.

(2) Twenty square miles near Sakarasanhalli, to the south-west of the Kolar Gold Field, were surveyed to re-examine the mode of origin and correlation of the metamorphic rocks of that area.

(3) Five square miles of mineralised schist belt near Chitaldrug were surveyed to ascertain the correct stratigraphic position of some of the rock formations in that area.

Other mineral surveys have revealed the occurrence of alluvial gold, gold quartz, chromite, kaolin, kyanite lime-kankar, pyrites and earth-salt in different parts of the State.

461. The total mining revenue (other than royalty on gold) was Rs. 54,033 (Rs. 51,921) The expenditure of the Department for the year was Rs. 55,392 (Rs. 57,104.) Finance

586. Among the ancient sites and monuments studied were those at Varuna, Bangalore, Gangavadi, Machalaghatta, Bechirak Hosur, Sriramanhalli, Bogavi, Naga-mangala, Dodjetka, Mudigere, Arni, Bellur, Dadaga, Kelagere, Grama, Hodigere and Nanjangud. Varuna appears to have been an important Jain settlement of the Ganga period. The Jain images discovered in the immediate vicinity of the ruined basti are good works of art, though it is possible that they may belong to a period much later than Sripurusha Ganga whose inscriptions have been discovered in the village. An interesting structure at the place is the Mahalingesvara temple which belongs to about the 10th century A. D. and has some good carving work, though built of granite. Most of the monuments inspected in the Nagamangala taluk belong to the Hoysala and later periods. The Mallesvara temple at Machalaghatta exhibits some good ceiling work. Bogavi appears to have been a Jaina agrahara town during the twelfth century A. D. Dadaga too seems to be a place of considerable antiquity. The Yoga-narasimha temple in the place contains pillars resembling those at the Nonabesvara temple at Nonavinakere. At Kelagere was discovered a Garuda pillar like the one at Agrahara Bachalli with all the faces of its base covered with inscriptions. This place also seems to have been a Jaina settlement during the twelfth century. The tomb of Shaji, father of the famous Sivaji, at Hodigere was another important discovery during the year. Measures are being taken to conserve the monument.

587. With the co-operation of the Department of Conservation, Public Works and the Belur and the Halebid 'Temples' Renovation Committee, the renovation work at Belur and Halebid was continued. A Committee has been proposed to study the present state of the Gomatesvara colossus at Sravanabelgola with a view to checking the disintegration of the monument. Opinions from experts have been called for; and it is hoped that preliminary remedial measures would soon be taken in the matter of conserving the statue.

588. About eighty inscriptions were collected. Of Epigraphy, these a record on the pedestal of a stone image of Chaudesvari in a ruined temple at Lakkunda, Belur taluk, which belongs to the eighth century, states that the image is of Vasantikadevi and was consecrated by one Mallideva of Nakkunda. The image has four hands holding sword, bowl, trident and drum, which are the attributes of a Saiva Goddess. The tradition, however, regarding the Hoysalas would make Vasantika a Jain Goddess. The central figure in the Vasantika temple at Angadi is that of Vaishnavi. A bronze tripod was found in the Kesava temple at Belur and belongs to Hoysala times as testified to by an inscription in Kannada characters of the 13th century which states that Kumara Lakshmidhara got this made for the God Vijaya-Narayana at Belur. This Kumara Lakshmidhara was a General under the Hoysala king, Ballala II (1173-1220), who immolated himself at the death of his master.

589. A Garuda pillar at Kelagere has an inscription carved on its four sides belonging to the reign of the Hoysala king, Narasimha II.

A stone inscription at Hora Marali in the Mysore taluk dated 1669 refers to the grant of a village to a Brahmin named Nanjanna Varanasi by Prince Kanthirava Mahipala during the reign of his father, Devaraja Wadiyar, King of Mysore. Devaraja Wadiyar ruled from 1659 to 1672 and had two sons, the elder being the famous Chikka Devaraja Wadiyar, who succeeded him, and the younger being Kanthirava Wadiyar of the present grant.
